about the Transit Center Manching/Ingolstadt
About this Information booklet

You have received the notification that you have to move to the Transit Center Manching/Ingolstadt (BayTMI) or are you already there? In the Transit Center, the situation is different from other refugee accommodations. The following brochure, compiled by the Infomobil of the Bavarian Refugee Council (Bayerischer Flüchtlingsrat) (see point 11), is intended to provide an overview of the practice there and of your rights. It shows what options you have to assert your rights.

Since September 2015 there are special accommodation facilities in Manching/Ingolstadt. These are called Transit Centers (BayTMI). Many opponents and critics of these establishments also use the term "deportation camp" ("Abschiebelager").

The aim of the government is to process asylum applications of refugees from "safe countries of origin" (see point 3) and refugees with a "bad recognition perspective" (see point 4) in fast procedures, who are accused of giving false information about their identity ("Identitätstäuscherinnen"), persons who refuse to cooperate (refuse the authorities’ requests, e.g. to provide passports) and persons for whose asylum procedures other European Union member states are responsible (see point 7).

Refugees report particularly bad conditions in the camps, which make them feel that they are not welcome here and have no chance. The camps are very isolated and access to counseling, lawyers and volunteers is difficult.

Therefore, we recommend that you contact the counseling center before the transfer. Inform yourself about your rights and try to assert them! In the Transit Centers in Ingolstadt / Manching a fair, individual asylum procedure as well as the human rights must apply. For example, get information about the hearing (long interview) at the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (Bundesamt für Migration und Flüchtlinge) at the refugee Infobus of the Munich Refugee Council (see point 8 – “counseling Centers”).
The Transit Center in Ingolstadt / Manching has four camps (see point 2). The Max-Immelmann barracks in Manching also contain all authorities relevant to the asylum procedure: the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF – Bundesamt für Migration und Flüchtlinge), the Central Immigration Office (ZAB – Zentrale Ausländerbehörde) and a branch office of the Administrative Court. In Ingolstadt, there are three more branch offices of the Transit Center in container camps. A shuttle bus links the camps in Ingolstadt. In all four camps, the social welfare office is also on site. Asylum social counseling is offered by Caritas (more information under point 8).

2. Transit Center locations

- MIK: Max-Immelmann-Kaserne: Am Hochfeldweg 20, 85051 Ingolstadt
- MC: Marie-Curie-Str. 13, 85055 Ingolstadt
- NBS: Am Westpark: Neuburgerstr. 105, 85057 Ingolstadt
- P3: Manchingerstr. 158, 85053 Ingolstadt
3. What are "safe countries of origin"?

A "safe country of origin" is a country in which, under current German law, there is no state prosecution and this state is willing to protect its citizens in case of persecution by other people or groups (§ 29a Asylum Act). Albania, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Ghana, Kosovo, Macedonia, Montenegro, Senegal and Serbia are currently declared as "safe countries of origin". Therefore, it is harder for asylum seekers coming from one of these countries to prove the individual persecution and they need to provide strong evidence.
4. What does “schlechte Bleibeperspektive” (bad recognition perspective) mean?

A bad follow-up perspective results from the BAMF’s recognition quota of asylum applications from a country. If the recognition quota of all applications from a country of origin is less than 50%, it is assumed that the recognition perspective is poor. So out of 100 asylum applications less than half are granted positive. That means the chance of getting recognition is rather low.
5. Regulation for people from “safe country origin”

The fact that you come from a "safe country of origin" has implications for your asylum procedure, residence obligation, work and school.

Duration of stay in the Transit Center: You must stay at the Transit Center until the Bamf has decided about your application for asylum. If the application is approved, you may move out. If the application is rejected, you must remain in the Transit Center until your departure under the Asylum Act (§ 47 (1a) AsylG). Only if there are very exceptional (health) reasons, you may move out under the Bavarian Admissions Act (Article 4 Abs. 6 AufnG). You can claim your right by applying to the Government of Upper Bavaria (Regierung von Oberbayern) to move out from the Transit Center and you can seek assistance (see point 8).

Interview: The interview is very important and crucial to the outcome of your asylum procedure. In the Transit Center, the procedures sometimes runs very fast, it may be that you get a hearing within a few days.

Inform yourself therefore immediately!
You can find information in the Asylum Guide of the Munich Refugee Council or online at:
http://www.asyl.net/arbeitshilfen-publikationen/arbeitshilfen-zum-aufenthalts-und-fluechtlingsrecht/informationsblatt-anhoerung

The Infobus of the Munich Refugee Council can also prepare you on telephone for your interview. Make an appointment by email: infobus@amnesty-muenchen.de
Asylum procedure: Your asylum application might likely be rejected as obviously unfounded. If you think that this decision is wrong, you must submit a claim within one week (which is important!) to the Administrative Court of Munich. If you submit a claim, you should also apply for suspensive effect under the rules of the administrative court (§ 80 (5) VwGO), otherwise you may be deported while the lawsuit is in progress.

To formulate your claim, you can get help from the legal department ("Rechtsantragsstelle") of the Administrative Court. On the site of the Max-Immelmann-Kaserne there is a branch office of the Administrative Court, to which you can go and say that you want to file a lawsuit against your decision (for address and opening hours see point 8). For legal proceedings, it is advisable to employ a lawyer (see point 9), as your claim must be well founded.

You have a chance of receiving the decision in your favour by the Administrative Court if your case is exceptional. For the Bavarian Administrative Courts and the judges working there also counts, that you are from a safe country of origin. You need very good evidence (documents, certificates, pictures, oral descriptions) of the problems you would be facing in case of returning to your country of origin.

As long as there hasn’t been any decision on the emergency appeal, you cannot be deported. If the suspensive effect has been approved, you cannot be deported until your main claim is resolved. If the suspensive effect is rejected, however, you can be deported even by ongoing lawsuit. From this point on, your social benefits will be reduced and you will no longer receive any cash benefits (pocket money).

Residence obligation: As long as you have to live in the Transit Center, your stay is restricted to Ingolstadt according to the Asylum Act (§ 56 (1) AsylG). For those from safe countries of origin, the residence restriction is valid for up to 24 months. You need a permit from the ZAB if you want to leave Ingolstadt, for example to visit a lawyer. in another city.

Work: For those from safe countries of origin, work is generally prohibited (§ 61 Abs. iVm §47 Abs.1 and 1a, § 61 Abs. 2 AsylG).

School: In Germany there is compulsory education for children from six years. But in the Transit Center München / Ingolstadt children from "safe countries of origin" have to go to a school inside the camp.

Nevertheless, we recommend you, try to register your children at a regular school. Again, independent counseling centers (see point 8) can help you. You have to submit the application for visiting a school to the education authority in Ingolstadt. If your children have been going to a normal school in Germany for some time, there is really no reason they should not continue to do so.
6. Regulations for persons from other countries of origin

Duration of stay in the Transit Center: This point is very important, since depending on whether you legally still do have to or don’t have to live in the Transit Center gives you different rights. So pay attention if you are already allowed to move out of the Transit Center!

Legally, you are allowed to stay in a reception center or a Transit Center for a maximum of six months (§47 (1) Abs. 1 AsylG). In addition, the federal states may decide to extend this period in some cases to a maximum of 24 months. In Bavaria, this extension is being implemented.

Legally, you have to stay in the Transit Center for up to six months or until the BAMF has decided on your asylum application. If your asylum application was rejected, the following applies:

- If your asylum application was rejected as "obviously unfounded" or inadmissible, you must remain in the Transit Center for up to 24 months.
- If your asylum application is simply rejected without justification, you must be allowed to leave the Transit Center if you have been there for 6 months.

Attention: Presumably, the Ausländerbehörde (immigration authority) might only add the word Gemeinschaftsunterkunft (GU) (shared accommodation) in your ID card. However, you will stay in the Transit Center, possibly only in another part of the building / at another location (see point 2).

If the ID-Card contains the word "GU" (see appendix III), different rules apply than for those who have to live in the Transit Center. This means that, for example, you can obtain a work permit at the discretion of the Immigration Authority. You can claim your rights (more on the points on residence obligation, work and school) by submitting a written application to the Regierung Oberbayern to move out from the Transit Center.

Interview: The interview is very important and crucial to the outcome of your asylum procedure. In the Transit Center, the procedures sometimes run very fast, it might be the case that you have an interview within a few days.

Asylum procedure: If your asylum application is simply rejected as unfounded, you have two weeks to claim at the court (for obviously unfounded, see point 5). The claim has a suspensive effect, so your social benefits will not be reduced until your claim has been decided on and you will not be deported. You can file the appeal yourself at the branch office of the Administrative Court in the Max-Immelmann-Kaserne. But it is advisable to get support from a lawyer (see point 9).

Residence restriction: Legally, as long as you have to live in the Transit Center, your stay is restricted to Ingolstadt according to §56 (1) AsylG. You need a permit from BAMF or ZAB if you want to leave Ingolstadt, to visit a lawyer in another city. However, as soon as you have the right to move out of the Transit Center (after six months), you also have the right to leave Ingolstadt. The ZAB must also note this in their Aufenthaltsgestattung (temporary residence permit).

Inform yourself therefore immediately! You can find information in the Asylum Guide of the Munich Refugee Council or online at: http://www.asyl.net/arbeitshilfen-publikationen/arbeitshilfen-zum-aufenthalts-und-fluechtlingsrecht/informationsblatt-anhoerung

The Infobus of the Munich Refugee Council can also prepare you on telephone for your interview. Make an appointment by email: infobus@amnesty-muenchen.de
Work: People who live in the Transit Center (considered as reception center) may not be allowed to work (according to § 61 Abs. 1 AsylG). Once they have been in the Transit Center for six months, the decision on the employment permit is at the discretion of the Immigration Authority (in accordance to §61 Abs. 2 AsylG).

School: Basically, you can register your children at a school as soon as possible. For example, find out about your rights with the employees of Caritas Counseling Center (Asylsozialberatung).

Which steps to take to get a work permit:

1. Looking for a job
2. Go to the Immigration Office with the written job offer / or the job commitment and apply for a working permit.
3. The immigration authority then checks whether the permit should be given (it is checked whether the conditions in the employment contract are legal (minimum wage, etc.).
4. If your application is rejected, please contact the Counseling Center of Caritas in Max-Immelmann-Kaserne, Am Hochfeldweg 20 or a lawyer.

Important note: Should the cancellation of the residence obligation not be noted in your Aufenthaltsgestattung (temporary residence permit) after a six-month stay in the Transit Center, you can appeal to a lawyer or a counseling center (see point 8)
7. Regulations for people who have arrived from another EU country/third country (Dublin III)

For the countries of the EU (+ Switzerland, Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein) there is a regulation in place, which regulates which state is responsible for the implementation of your asylum procedure. This is the Dublin III Regulation.

If you receive a notification from the BAMF that your application is rejected as inadmissible under the Dublin III Regulation (§29 (1) no. 1 AsylG), you will only have one week to sue (see Asylum Guide of the Munich Refugee Council).

It is important that you immediately mention all the reasons that prevent you from being deported to another EU country (eg. Italy) or if you have not had the opportunity submit a claim against deportation to that country (deadline: one week). There are reasons that can successfully lead to your asylum procedure being implemented in Germany despite the responsibility of another state:

- fear of persecution or inhumane treatment (eg. being threatened by forced prostitution / trafficking)
- Due to an illness that cannot be treated in the country through which you traveled.
- Other reasons: Disability, pregnancy, newborn baby, old age, family members (parents, siblings, underage children) are in Germany

9. Do I need a lawyer?

Although a lawyer is very important in the asylum procedure, there is no right to a free lawyer. Therefore, you must employ a lawyer privately and at your own expense. They are required by law to charge you. These charges are usually calculated according to the value in dispute. You can apply to the court for legal aid (this is usually done by your lawyer), but this is rarely granted, and that is when the court is assuming a positive decision. Talk to your lawyer about the possibility of a payment by installment. Most lawyers require an advance payment and after completing the procedure or in between you will receive a bill.

In order to get an initial assessment of whether your case could have a chance of success, and if it makes sense to be represented by a lawyer, you can ask independent counseling services (see point 8). These can also inform you about possible support for the lawyers fees. You can also ask for addresses of lawyers there. It is important that your lawyer is familiar with asylum and foreign law.
10. What to do in case of deportation?

The camps in Ingolstadt serve to carry out their asylum procedure as quickly as possible and then, in the case of a negative decision, to deport you to your country of origin or to the country responsible for you (Dublin cases). Repeatedly, there are weekly deportations of individuals and families. Especially for people from "safe countries of origin" deportation are likely to happen fast, since the lawsuit has usually no suspensive effect and many can be as well deported during the legal process. The deportations usually happen very early. It may be that the police takes away your mobile phone.

Make sure in advance, that in case of a deportation situation a trusted person can contact your lawyer or counseling center (for example, give someone else their telephone number).
11. The Infomobil project - Who we are and what we do

At the beginning of 2016, we started a group of independent activists to go to Ingolstadt and Manching regularly to exchange views with the people in the deportation camps and fight against the inhuman treatment and isolation through deportation camps. Our work is supported by funds from Pro Asyl and the Bavarian Refugee Council. Meanwhile, we have a bus with which we can drive to the various camps.

This what we do:
- Public relations and media relations work: bring information from the deportation camp outside to the public.
- Information: Provide residents of the deportation camps with necessary information regarding their rights and possibilities.
- Political Actions: Set up protests with the people in the camps.
- Individual cases: refer to other contacts in specific cases and look for legal ways to prevent deportations.

Our goals:
In order to improve the situation in the camps, it is important to raise awareness in the society about the situation. With the Infomobil we therefore try to report on the everyday life in the deportation camps.

How can you contact us?
- We regularly try to take our bus to the camps in Ingolstadt and Manching. Here you can address us easily.
- You can also send us an e-mail, possibly with your telephone number, then we will contact you. Email: Infomobil@fluechtlingsrat-bayern.de
- You can also find us on Facebook:

Decision about claim

For refugees who have been staying in a reception centre for at least six months and have received a rejection as simply unfounded there is, starting on the date of rejection, no longer a legal basis for them having to live in a reception centre (ARE, Transit Centre) (§ 47 Abs. 1b AsylG).

Therefore, there should be no residence restrictions and work should not be generally prohibited from this date on.

*Refugees with „safe countries of origin“ have to stay in the transit centre without limitation (§ 47 Abs. 1a AsylG). Because of that they have a residence restriction (§ 56 Abs. 1 AsylG) and a ban on work (§ 61 Abs. 1 u. Abs. 2 AsylG) for their whole stay.

No protection from deportation! Deportation can happen even before court decision.
- Benefits will be shortened

No deportation or cutback in benefits before court decision

Previous practice in Ingolstadt/Machring: There were cases in which the ZAB changed the naming of the accommodation in the residence permit/tolerated stay after about six months. The label was changed from “ARE1” to “GU-ARE1” but the person’s conditions didn’t change. Residence restriction etc. stayed.

Problem: This concept was made official afterwards, by inventing the transit centres. In these deportation camps each single room can be GU or reception centre or even both at the same time - this makes it impossible for refugees to move out. Nevertheless, there is no longer a legal basis to give persons who have a “GU-status” a ban on work or residence restriction.
This brochure was compiled in the context of the special camps project with the support of the Bavarian Refugee Council.
